The seller reserves the right to modify these General Terms and Conditions of Sale at any time.

2. Sales Orders

The buyer shall place written orders for the products with the seller. Orders shall be binding on the seller only if accepted in writing by the seller. The seller may either accept or reject the buyer's order.

3. Product Information

Samples of products are submitted only as indicative of the class, size or colour of products. Any measurements of size, weight or finish of products are approximate only and may vary.

Catalogues, brochures and price lists are intended for general guidance only and do not form part of any sales contract.

The obtaining of any legal authorisation, permit or similar for the installation of the products shall not be the responsibility of the seller.

Specially designed drawings or plans provided by the seller shall be checked for accuracy and suitability by the buyer. Unless specifically informed otherwise, the drawings or plans are deemed accepted.

4. Warranty

The seller's liability for defects in the products shall be limited to the terms of this warranty.

The warranty covers defects in materials or workmanship. The seller shall not be liable for defects due to natural wear and tear, damage in transport, faulty use, maintenance, storage or any other circumstances beyond the seller's immediate control.

The warranty and any other rights and remedies under these General Terms and Conditions of Sale are valid provided that the product has been used and installed correctly according to the instructions of the seller and existing regulations and terms of use. The warranty ceases immediately if anybody other than a person authorised and approved by the seller repairs, changes or opens the product.

This warranty is valid as follows ("Warranty Period"):

- (a) Luminaire based products: 5 years from manufacturing date;
- (b) All other products: 3 years from manufacturing date.

The Warranty Period shall not be affected by a delivery of a replacing product by the seller, and the Warranty Period shall always be calculated from the date of manufacture, as applicable.

The seller's liability for defects shall be limited to the repair or replacement of the defective product within a reasonable time at the seller's premises and shall not extend to any on-site work or any parts, components, or systems other than the defective part itself. Shipment charges to and from the seller shall always be borne by the buyer. If an issue can be resolved by updating the software, the seller shall provide the buyer with new software, if available.

Should the seller fail to repair or replace the defective product within a reasonable time, the seller shall refund to the buyer the purchase price paid by the buyer for such defective product, in whole or in part depending on the nature of the defect. No refund shall be payable with respect to the price of other parts, components or systems that may include, or may have been sold to the buyer in connection with such defective part.

All undertakings, warranties, conditions, liabilities, and remedies relating to any qualities or defects in the products other than those expressly contained herein above are expressly excluded. In particular, any implied warranties and conditions of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose are expressly disclaimed.

Any third party software that may be embedded in or made available in connection with the products or which is required for the installation of the

The seller shall not be responsible for repair or replacement of, and/or any refunds related to, any Third Party Software.

5. Inspection of Goods and Notification Requirements

The buyer shall be obliged to examine the products prior to accepting them from the freight carrier. The type and scale of any visible damages must be noted to the consignment note, proof of delivery and/or the mobile device of the freight carrier prior to acceptance. The buyer shall also, without delay, notify both the freight carrier and the seller of any such damages, including pictures of the damage.

All other defects shall be notified to the seller in writing within 14 days from the date of delivery or, if the defect could not have been discovered through a careful inspection of the product, immediately after discovery of the defect and in no event later than the expiry of the relevant Warranty Period. The seller reserves the right to make the final decision regarding claim validity.

6. Prices

The products shall be considered sold at the seller's prices and payment terms prevailing at the time of the seller's order confirmation or any other written acceptance of order.

Unless otherwise specified by the seller, all prices quoted are ex works (seller's named place, Incoterms 2020) and exclude the cost of packing. Any applicable value-added tax, duties or other public charges paid or payable by the seller shall be added to the price and shall be paid or reimbursed by the buyer.

Firm price quotations are valid for a period of one month only from the date of quotation.

The seller reserves the right to increase any agreed prices in the event of increases in value-added tax, customs duties, or other public charges. The seller shall also have the right to increase prices because of changes in the exchange rate for the currency in which the prices have been determined or because of changes in prices of raw materials or components used in the manufacturing process of the products.

7. Terms of Payment

The seller shall, at its discretion, always be entitled to demand payment in advance. Where the seller has granted the buyer a credit facility, terms of payment are thirty (30) days net from date of invoice, unless otherwise agreed in writing. The buyer agrees to settle the seller's invoice in full without any deductions or set-offs. All crediting shall be issued by the seller.

The seller reserves the right to withdraw or modify credit facilities at any time by written notice to the buyer.

8. Delayed Payment

When payment of any of the seller's invoices is overdue, the seller may suspend the contract to which the invoice relates and any other contract then subsisting between the seller and the buyer. The seller may suspend all deliveries under the contract to which the invoice relates as well as under any other contractual relationship between the parties. No deliveries will take place if invoices are overdue.

Interest on overdue amounts shall accrue without notice at the statutory rate prevailing in the seller's country.

If the seller is required to bring legal action for collecting overdue accounts the buyer agrees to pay the seller's reasonable attorney fees and legal costs.

9. Delivery of Products

The seller will deliver products in such full packages and in minimum quantities as determined by the seller. Unless expressly stated otherwise in writing, the seller will add a surcharge of EUR 100 for deliveries specified by the buyer in value under EUR 1,000 (excluding VAT).

Unless otherwise specified by the seller, the products shall be delivered ex works (seller's named place, Incoterms 2020) as stated in the seller's acceptance of order unless specifically agreed otherwise between the parties in writing. Any dates quoted for delivery of the products are approximate only.

The seller reserves the right to make partial shipments and to make deliveries by or through its Affiliates, distributors and agents.

If the buyer fails to take delivery of a project order or a delivery of products produced, programmed or assembled for the buyer or if such delivery is otherwise postponed for reasons owing to the buyer, the seller has the right to invoice the products according to the original delivery date. The risk of loss or deterioration shall pass to the buyer on the original delivery date. Seller shall be entitled to full compensation for damages incurred due to the postponement as well as other rights or remedies available under the applicable law.

All sales of products by the seller to the buyer are final. No products may be returned without the seller's prior written acceptance, save for returns of defective products required to be permitted under applicable law. In the event of a return of non-defective products accepted by the seller, the buyer shall return such products at its own expense and subject to a restocking fee. The buyer shall provide the seller with a tracking code enabling the tracking of the delivery of the returned products within 14 days from the acceptance of the return. The restocking fee shall be payable by the buyer and shall be (a) an amount equal to 20% of the selling price of the returned products or (b) such other amount that is specified by the seller in connection with the acceptance of the buyer's request to return the relevant products. Any returned non-defective products shall be unused, undamaged, in excellent condition and in the original packaging.

However, the damages shall in no event exceed 0.5% per week of the price allocated to the delayed portion of the delivery, and in no event shall the total amount of such damages exceed 5% of such price. The term "week" as used above shall mean subsequent periods of seven days immediately following the expiry of the three-week period referred to in (b) above.

If the delay exceeds three months from the agreed date, the buyer shall have the right to cancel the purchase of the delayed portion of the delivery. Apart from such cancellation and the damages specified above, the buyer shall have no other remedy, and the seller shall have no liability, for any delay or any failure by the seller to deliver the products.

If the seller cancels the delivery at the latest four weeks before the agreed date, no damages or any other compensation shall be payable to the buyer.

If the seller cancels the delivery later than four weeks before the agreed date, damages, if any, payable to the buyer for non-delivery of the products shall be equal to the losses actually sustained by the buyer. However, the total amount of such damages shall in no event exceed 5% of the price allocated to the non-delivered products. The buyer is entitled to damages for delay in accordance with the second paragraph of this section.
